Greater Portland Women present outstanding recognition awards

by Dorothy Oberg

The Annual Meeting of the association held on April 17,2005 was the site of the recognition of two outstanding ladies. Mrs. Genice VanHemert was honored as the recipient of the Inspirational Award and Mrs. Thelma LaPontic received the League Leadership Award.

Genice began bowling occasionally at the "alley" owned by George Amato in Astoria as a teen. Setting their own pins, since it cost only 10 cents a line that way, made it a fun recreation. She never had any specific lessons, just learned as she rolled along.

She joined a league at Beaverton Bowl when it opened its doors, and with the bonus of free baby-sitting, enjoyed fun and friendships. She had the opportunity to live in several foreign countries, and bowled wherever she went. Upon returning to the United State in 1969, she joined a league at Valley Lanes, and with even more involvement, joined a senior league at Gladstone Bowl. She became league secretary of the senior league and has continued in that capacity for 18 years.

18 years ago she became a member of the GPWBA and quickly became involved in her favorite charity - BVL. She has chaired that committee for many years, has set up and worked the Bowl-A-Fun, sold pins, encouraged and counted the league contributions and devoted many, many hours to secure funds for out hospitalized veterans.

She is currently serving as our 1st Vice-President and is a member of the USBC Transition Board.

She served as Local Team Leader for the WIBC Membership Development Program, and has represented our association at both state and national conventions since 1992.

Bowling for her has fulfilled her need to be helpful and has given her many wonderful; friendships that she values very highly. We are very pleased to be able to honor her with this award.

Thelma is Secretary of the Swinging Seniors at AMF $_{20}$th Century Lanes, a position she has held for 25 years. She has been secretary for numerous leagues over the years, and is one of our outstanding league leaders.

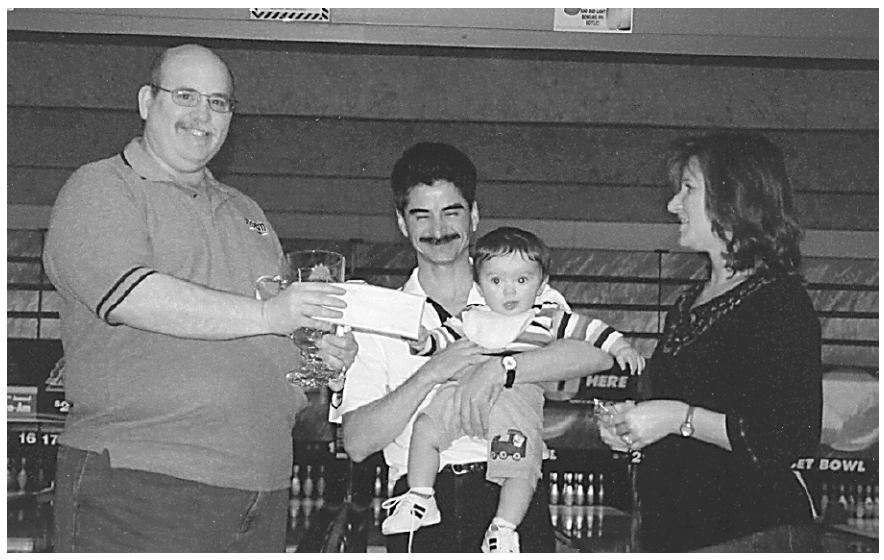

She is a native 3rd generation Oregonian and informed us that her ancestors arrived in Oregon in a covered wagon in 1850. She is retired, but certainly is not an idle lady.

Thelma is very involved with The Oregon Agate and Mineral society, serves as secretary, assists with monthly meetings, and serves as a delegate for her organization. She personally cuts and polishes stones and rocks that make beautiful jewelry pieces.

This busy little lady is a board member for East County Toy and Joy and knits and Crochets scarves, lap robed for a nursing home as well as hats for the Christmas program. When she finds a little spare time, she works in her garden and on her genealogy projects..

We certainly congratulate this very deserving recipient of the GPWBA League Leadership Award for 2005.

Allen's Crosley Lanes now nonsmoking. $1.2 million dollar remodel underway

Donn Allen, proprietor of Allen's Crosley Lanes in Vancouver and Interstate Lanes in Portland, recently made two announcements concerning Crosley Lanes.

First was that effective June 1, 2005 Crosley Lanes would be a nonsmoking bowling center. Smoking will still be allowed in the center's lounge. Allen said, "This was a tough decision, but our clientele is changing and the smoking population is in decline." He continued, "I'm a smoker myself and I hope our smoking bowlers won't be too mad about this change. I know there are many people who don't go to bowling centers simply because of the smoking."

"We've had birthday parties for kids cancelled," said Allen, "because moms were worried about exposing their children to a smoking environment.. I think it's just a matter of time before the state steps in and mandates smokefree atmospheres."

The second announcement is that Crosley has embarked on a $1.2 million dollar expansion remodel of the center. Some of the new changes will be the removal of the riser separating the lobby from the bowling lanes. Perky's Pizza's location will be moved from the west end of the building to make way for an expanded billiards room that will remove the billiard tables from being in the lobby. The lounge and restaurant area will also undergo a remodel.

One of the remodel features that Allen is most excited about is the technological changes that will occur. On June 24th(approximate date) replacement of all the traditional TV-screen scoring equipment with new flat screen panels installed that will allow bowlers to toggle back and forth between the bowling scores and other entertainment venues like music and sports broadcasts. Also included as part of the remodel was the new electronic billboard that is up and operating out front of the building parking lot.

Speaking more about the nonsmoking issue, Allen said, "With the remodel and the growing public concern about smoking and many of our customers expressing a desire for a smoke free center it seemed an appropriate time for the change. We have already received many calls from interested bowlers in our smoke free atmosphere and many of our current bowlers are also happy about the change."

Summertime is almost upon us so be sure and check the summer hours at your center.

After years of publishing The Van Port, we still have problems getting pictures and tournament results. I get numerous phone calls and emails from bowlers who ask why wasn't "such and such" reported in The Van-Port. The usual answer is we didn't know about it. Producing a publication of any kind requires cooperation from news sources, if this isn't forthcoming, then now news. So, as I've said before, if you know of something that you feel should have some publicity, don't wait for someone else to inform us, pick up the phone and call.

On the same subject, it also holds that tournaments that wish their results published in The Van Port (at no charge) would get them to us, again via email or mail. Most do this, but some don't. I requested some tournament results and pictures recently from a major Portland tournament event and was informed to go the web site and I would find them there. Well, I don't go to web sites. It's to time consuming and to me this is doing the work of the tournament director. I know The Van-Port is not The Oregonian or Columbian, but we do have thousands of readers who look forward to all the bowling news we can publish. So get us the results, please!

On the same subject, I want to thank the Portland Associations for their excellent job of getting news and tournament results to us. And a special thank you to Bob Zoesch for his monthly column (which appears on this page) reporting on what's going on at the Associations.

It demonstrates caring for the association members and doing all they can to keep those member informed.

On to better things . . . .three generations of Piel's are now league bowling. In addition to Audrey and I, son Ed and his son Jake, son Scott and his son Aaron are bowling an adult/ junior league this summer.

Haven't seen Ernie Schlegel lately, just missed him and Cathy one Thursday when I went to watch the kids bowl, but he is still bowling the tournaments and still cashing. The Ironman just keeps on rolling along!

Talked to some folks in Seattle recently and found out some of the tournament groups are not drawing the numbers to their tournaments that they used too! My thought's on that are that since The Van-Port no longer serves the Seattle area, there is no major bowling publication for anyone to advertise in. Now whether anyone agrees with me or not, I know that advertising pays off for the tournament groups. I'm not going to mention any names, but a couple who used to be regular advertisers in The Van-Port, are not doing as well as they used to. Don't know about the Portland tournament groups, other than most don't do any advertising to speak of. Like I said, years of experience has taught me and been proven to me that advertising really does pay off.

Portland Association News

by Bob Zoesch, President, Portland Bowling Association

What's new in the greater Portland area bowling world? Well, the initial annual meeting of the GREATER PORTLAND USBC was held on Saturday May 21st, 2005 at the Veteran's Hospital auditorium. The present Portland Bowling Association, Greater Portland Women's Bowling Association and the Greater Portland YABA will disappear as of July 31,2005 and the new GPUSBC association becomes the official organization representing all member bowlers in the Tri-County area. That's all bowling centers in Clackamas, Multnomah and Washington counties and covers male, female and youth bowlers.

The proposed By-Laws of the GPUSBC were presented and adopted. Budget requirements were presented to support the services for all bowlers. Financial balance sheets for the individual organizations as well as a combined balance sheet for the new association were reviewed.

The nominating committee presented nominees for all of the positions on the Board of Directors and elections were held with the following results:

President: Bob Zoesch, 1st Vice-President- Bob Van Horn,2ndVice-President-Eleanore Libby, Sergeant @ Arms- Carol Santos-Mattoon, Director Position 1- Linda Scott, Director Position 2- Dave Husted, Director Position 3- Jon Tang, Director Position 4- Janet McLean, Director Position 5- Dean Johnson, Director Position 6- Bill Ullman, Director Position 7- Rhoda Buckley, Director Position 8- Richard Lorey, Director Position 9- Denielle Otey. Director Position 10- Bob Tobias, Director Position 11- Sheri Schmaling, Director Position 12- Amanda Whitcomb, Director Position 13- Leilani Harry, Director Position 14- Genise Van Hemert, Youth Director Position 1- John D'Angelo, Youth Director Position 2- Catherine Grow,Youth Director Position 3- Erin Rome, Youth Director Position 4- Bert Wilson. Youth Director Position 5- Tammy Wilson.

Congratulations to each of the board members- You have a large responsibility with the goal of providing the best possible service to all of the bowling family in the greater Portland area. They will all be asking for volunteer help in doing so.

More on the new association in coming issues, however there is still a lot of activity at the three individual offices to bring the 2004-2005 bowling season to conclusion. Year end averages are still coming in to be entered into the computer to enable the year book to reflect all bowlers. The yearbook committee is working hard on getting everything in place to complete the book before the next season's league officers need them. Most bowling centers host league workshops generally in late July and early August time frame and league officer supply kits are being prepared for them so that committee is also very active. And then there are the annual Awards Banquets to honor tournament winners and other individuals .

The final Portland Bowling Association banquet this year is June 12th at the Refectory on 122nd and Halsey St. Call PBA office 503-257-9511 for information and tickets. The final Greater Portland Womens Bowling Association banquet is June 5th at the Ramada Inn-Airport. 6pm cocktails, 7pm dinner. Call GPWBA office at 503-257-3948 for reservations.

One last thing.... summer hours for the office will be in place beginning in early June. Have a nice summer and hopefully most of you will keep your bowling game in sharp form by joining a summer league or using open play time.

FLAG RETIREMENT MARKS END OF WIBC

Convention closes organization's final season

TULSA, Okla. — The Women's International Bowling Congress flag was retired Sunday in front of thousands of attendees at the conclusion of the final WIBC Convention in Tulsa, Okia. The historic flag, with its red, blue, yellow and purple stripes, was donated to the International Bowling Museum and Hall of Fame in St. Louis.

WIBC's 88-year run came to an end when the organization merged with the American Bowling Congress, Young American Bowling Alliance and USA Bowling to form the United States Bowling Congress on Jan. 1, 2005. As a result, this weekend's meeting marks the last under the WIBC moniker.

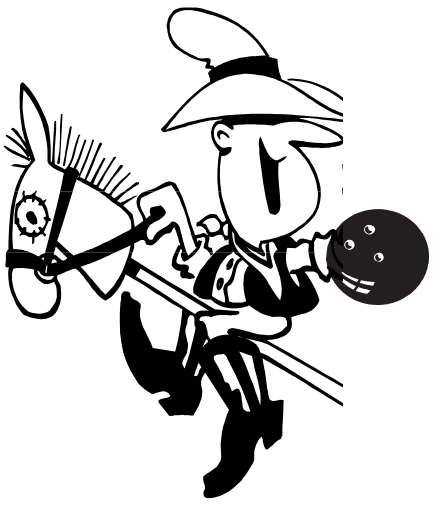

Five WIBC officials and one member participated in the flag retirement ceremony, carefully folding and passing the flag to Sylvia Broyles, WIBC's final president, who presented it to Gerald Baltz, International Bowling Museum and Hall of Fame executive director. The flag, designed in 1940 by WIBC member Philena Bohlen, features an insignia with strike, spare, split and miss marks and a bowling ball and pin.

"The retirement of the WIBC flag was an extremely moving and emotionally charged experience for everyone in attendance," said Broyles. "All the great WIBC ladies who came before us were honored and remembered at this final ceremony."

"It was hard to say 'farewell' while choking back tears," said Roseann Kuhn, former WIBC executive director. "Even though it's sad to see this great organization end, I know that women's bowling will only grow and improve under US BC."

High School Bowling Porgram continues momentum under US Bowling Congress

GREENDALE, Wis. — The bowling industry has been making an investment in bowling's future and it's paying off.

Under the guidance of the United States Bowling Congress, a platform exists to expand bowling opportunities for high school bowlers while also achieving the goal of promoting the sport to younger bowlers.

Initially, as a jointly funded program with USBC, High School Bowling USA was administered in Arlington, Texas, under the supervision of the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America. Now, through mutual agreement, USBC High School is funded and administered through its headquarters in Greendale, Wis. BPAA will continue to provide support and advice through participation on the High School Advisory Board and through their members' support of the high school programs locally across the nation.

For an indication of just how far the program has evolved since its inception on Aug. 1, 2001, just four states had boys and girls varsity level bowling programs, two states had girls varsity programs and 14 states had club level programs. Nearly four years later, 14 states have boys and girls varsity level bowling programs, one state has girls varsity level and 25 states have club programs. The balance of states are either working on or nearing implementation of high school programs.

"With USBC's future role as the sport's national governing body, the infrastructure is in place to best facilitate and support the program's needs as a competitive sport," said USBC Chief Executive Officer Roger Dalkin. "Since this initiative has evolved from a plan on a piece of paper to a growing and successful program, it's important that we keep the momentum moving and we can best do that as part of USBC."

In most cases, states that have accepted bowling as a varsity sport, bowling must be conducted as a team competition under the jurisdiction of a conference. Like other varsity sports, there must be a system in place to advance teams representing schools to a state championship. There can be exceptions for areas which have smaller programs or are not part of a conference and where travel and other logistics might need to be considered. Some programs also may include a supplemental individual competition at the state championships, if desired. For states that have not received varsity status, high schools conduct bo~g as a club sport.

"High school bowling is the fastest growing high school sport in the country," said Director of USBC High School Christine E. Zahn. "We can also take pride in the fact that the National Federation of State High School Associations has been very impressed with the industry's dedication, funding and planning to move this program forward."

Where have all the centers gone?

Not just the landscape around Mt. St. Helen's has changed during the past 25 years. The bowling landscape has changed equally dramatically.

Jim Springer, owner of Hilander Bowl in Kelso, who's namesake Mt. St. Helens Tournament has taken him all over the Northwest during these past 25 years has an acute 1st hand experience at just how dramatic that change has been.

While making the rounds this past winter, promoting his tournament, Springer stepped into West Seattle Bowl to end up discovering a revealing display of past and present bowling centers in Seattle and King County. Over 100 flags dotted a 4 x 8 map and display of past and present facilities. Springer then began to ponder just how many different bowling centers had he visited over the past 25 years and how many had gone out of business?

Even though the list was limited to Washington and Oregon, the number of centers, and their respective lane bed totals was staggering. Although the Seattle Association had shown scores of centers that had closed over the past many decades, many were 4 to 8 lane facilities that operated in the first half of the last century and only within King County. Springers' list includes those centers he had personally visited during the past 25 years.

Over 50 centers representing over 1,000 lanes have disappeared since the eruption of 1980.

They have gone by the wayside for a variety of reasons from disasters, retirement, public domain for freeways to airports, economic slumps, to the land underneath them being to valuable to support a bowling business.

The Hilander itself almost succumbed when it was destroyed by floods in February of 1986.

Though Springers' list may not represent every closed center, and some names may not quite be right, it is solemn testimony to how dramatically the face of bowling has changed just in the last 25 years.

Even though the missing centers make Springers personal tour shorter than it used to be, he laments the demise of many of the old haunts that he even remembers bowling in as a junior bowler.

See how many bowling centers you remember that have disappeared since 1980.

Washington: Vancouver Bowl, Vancouver; Triangle Bowl, Longview; Alpine Lanes, Morton; Salmon Bowl, White Salmon; Skookum Bowl, Yakima; Union Gap, Union Gap; Columbia Bowl, Kennewick; Diamond Bowl, Spokane; Colonial Bowl, Spokane; Imperial Bowl, Spokane; Columbia Bowl, Wenatchee; Belle Bowl, Bellevue; University Village, Seattle; Green Lake, Seattle; Palladium, Seattle; Lake City, Seattle; Lynden Lanes, Lynden; Key City, Port Townsend; Coupeville Bowl, Coupeville; Rainier 80, Seattle; Lincoln Bowl, Seattle; Fairweather, Sedro Wooley; Georgetown, Seattle; Strato, Renton; Ballinger Bowl, Lake Forrest Park; Person Lanes, Auburn; Regency (Olympic), Burien; Lewis and Clark, Burien, Sportsworld, Federal Way; New Frontier, Tacoma; 6th Avenue, Tacoma; Astro Villa, Tacoma; Lacey Lanes, Lacey; Gig Harbor, Gig Harbor and 4 Lanes Bowl in Shelton.

Oregon: Jantzen Bowl, Portland; Columbia Lanes, Portland; Grand Central, Portland; Gateway, Portland; 82nd Av Bowl, Portland; Eastside Bowl, Portland; Palisades, Lake Oswego; Sandy Lanes, Portland; Mayfair Bowl, Portland; Beaverton Bowl, Beaverton; Cherry City, Salem; Columbian, The Dalles; Tri City Bowl, Oregon City; and Beaver Bowl in Corvallis.

There are also centers that removed a few lanes to accommodate additional revenue sources. They include Tower in Tacoma, Celebrity in Kennewick and Players and Spectators in Spokane Valley. Skyway Park in Renton stayed neutral when it both added and then removed 16 lanes during this time frame.

To end on a positive note, four totally new centers came on the market. They include Brunswick Majestic in Mill Creek, Zeppos in Pullman, and the two Lava Lanes in Bend and Medford. Park Lanes built a new facility in Hillsboro and added 8 lanes.

Highland Bowl in Corvallis added 8 lanes. And last but not least, Springers' own Hilander Bowl where this all began added 7 lanes when it moved into its new facilities in Kelso.

ASK BOB

By Bob Korth

Q. What are the differences between real leather sliding soles and the synthetic sliding soles? Are there particular advantages/ disadvantages to each? (Durability, performance, etc.)

A. The synthetic slide soles are ok. But when they make this kind of shoe you get the synthetic slide sole on both shoes. With better higher grade bowling shoes you get rubber soles on the non-slide foot. This gives needed traction for the start of the approach. Befter shoes are also made better and last longer. The higher end shoes also in many cases come with slides soles that can be changed. Either with a full sole or what are called slide cleats. With these you can adjust the amount of slide to fit your game. Every approach is different synthetic, wood. The slide characteristics are different from center to center. The adjustable slide soles keep them all the same. The best ones out right now I believe are the Dynoroos from Dyno-Thane. They can cost $150.00 to $200.00 depending on where you buy them. But bowling shoes can last many years so the cost per year is not much. Dynoroos are made of Kangaroo leather and are very comfortable and have all the slide sole features. What you are looking for is Dynoroos Tour Ultras. You can check them out at www.dynothane.com. You can get them at most Pro shops.

Q. The bowling center where my league is held has mostly medium oiled lanes. But sometimes they put heavy oil on the lane, causing my ball to react late and hitting the pocket lightly if at all (I'm right handed). Also, many of the bowlers use house balls, which are plastic, we play 3 games, and during late 2nd game and 3rd game all the plastic balls carry the oil down and again cause my ball to react late. I have a Scout Particle ball and I have tried some things to adjust. 1st I tried throwing it slower and then I tried lofting it a little. They both worked but it took some valuable shots to find my mark. I really don't like going straighter rather than throwing a curve because I am more comfortable with hooking it. I went for practice a few days ago and worked on throwing it straighter for such lane conditions. Are there any other adjustments I can make?

A. That is typical oil carry down. Normally you just need to change your tine to the right. Keep moving your feet and the bait line right till you find the dry boards. You may have to go as much as 4 boards right with your feet and 3 to 4 boards right with your target. If you are playing 2nd arrow you might have to go almost to1st arrow. Changing the turn on the ball is probably not the answer. Moving is. You might also try a reactive ball with a matte finish. These will sometimes finish harder than a particle. They retain more energy for the backend.

Q. Summer is almost here so what recommendations do you have for keeping your game activities pick up.
up for next season?

A. Like most bowlers I cut back in the summer as outdoor I do bowl in one summer league to keep timing and interest up. My recommendation is to bowl in at least one summer league. Preferably a sports league as this will force you to concentrate and keep your mental game sharp. If during this league you find you are losing interest get a sub. And take a few weeks off. I believe everyone needs to get away for a short time to re-energize and re-focus. Summer is also a great time to work on your game so take some lessons and work on technique.

NWST

Exciting last three games DeRemer/ Roeben win by 1 pin!

Going into the last game three teams were within 46 pins with Trent Zabelle and Mike Martin leading. Joey and Nick Borgaro were trailing the leaders by 35 pins. In third place were Frank DeRemer and Bill Roeben. Frank and Bill fired games of 275 and 220 and won 40 bonus points. Mechanical problems on the lanes of the leaders caused a 5 - minute delay as the excitement was mounting. Nick Borgaro kept striking and rolled a 300 game, but their 483 with 40 bonus points left them 1 pin short. Most of the spectators thought the 300 game meant victory for the Borgaro's. This is the first NWST title for Bill Roeben and Frank DeRemer. Charlie Simmons and Jim Winklepleck were the leading qualifiers.

Mini Offers First Ever Mixed Doubles

Dynorooz Mixed Doubles Will Roll Monday July 4

For the first time in its 12 year run, the Mini Eliminator will stage a special event for a doubles team made up of a man and a woman at the Mini. Monday evening July 4 at the Orleans Bowling Center, the inaugural Dynorooz Mixed Doubles will be held. The field will be limited to 64 teams.

The Dynorooz Mixed Doubles will guarantee a $3000 top prize with only 20 team entries, and 1 in 5 teams will cash. In addition to the top prize, second place is guaranteed $2000, third place $1500, and fourth place $1000 at only 40 teams. In addition to the cash prizes, Dynorooz will award 12 pair of their top of the line Tour Ultra bowling shoes during the event, valued at $200 per pair.

Every game of the six game event, the man and woman with the highest individual score for that game will win a new pair of Dynorooz Tour Ultra shoes. Final standings will be determined by the highest 3-game totals from the 7 and 9 pm squads combined.

Individual bowlers may cash twice, but only with a different doubles partner. Individual and team brackets will also be offered, and a separate 'crossover doubles' pot will allow players to team with multiple partners. Side action will also include high game pots for teams, men and women.

The entry fee for this all-new event is $300 per team, and last cash is guaranteed $600, double the entry fee. All men and women bowling in the Mixed Doubles must have at least one paid entry in one of the Mini Eliminator main events to be eligible. Walk-ins are welcome, but spots are limited to the first 32 paid teams in each squad, so paying in advance or at registration is recommended.

MINI OFFERS MORE BIG CHECKS THAN ANY OTHER EVENT

For megabuck bowlers looking for big checks to take home from Las Vegas, the Mini Eliminator is the best place to find them. The Mini motto is Lowest Entry Fees and Best Guarantees, and in the past five years, no other event has come close to paying out the big money like the Mini.

For the record, the BEST GUARANTEE IN BOWLING IS STILL AT THE MINI – AND IT IS THAT 150TH PLACE WILL CASH FOR A MINIMUM OF $1000 REGARDLESS OF ENTRIES. No other event will make this incredible guarantee. In addition, at least 80 bowlers will cash for a minimum of $2000, at least 16 bowlers will earn $5000 checks, and at least 10 bowlers will take home $10,000 checks – ALL GUARANTEED.

Among the biggest winners at the Mini will be the winners of three big Main Events – the MoRich Matchplay Event guarantees $20,000 first place, the 3-game qualifier offers $30,000 first place and the Brunswick Shootout will pay a $10,000 top prize. And once again, the Mini Eliminator is the only megabuck event to TOTALLY GUARANTEE ITS ENTIRE PRIZE FUND 100% FROM TOP TO BOTTOM.

The 12th Annual Mini Eliminator is presented by Brunswick, the world's leader in bowling, and sponsored by Turbo 2-N-1 Grips, Coast Casinos, Kegel Corporation, MoRich, Dynorooz, Goodpayer.com , KR Strikeforce, and Bowlingball.com. The event will be held at the beautiful Orleans Casino, Hotel, and Bowling Center in Las Vegas July 2-10.
